

Davis Intake

Part Two

Mrs. Davis told the hospital social worker that Donna had left James in her care before. This time she thinks Donna went away with her new boyfriend. When Mrs. Davis was told James' arm was broken and that the type of injury suggested probable abuse, Mrs. Davis said Donna often lost her temper but wouldn't hurt her child. Her boyfriend however, was capable of hurting him. She said she would care for James temporarily.

Mrs. Davis also reported James and his sister attend a day care center in their neighborhood while Donna works.

You are the CPS Specialist and have received the above report from the Kansas Protection Report Center. There have been no previous reports of maltreatment received on Donna or Mrs. Davis. However, there had been an open case on Donna, who had been placed in a group home briefly as a 15-year-old when she was out of Mrs. Davis' control and using drugs. She was returned to Mrs. Davis after six months in care and completion of drug counseling. The case was closed.
